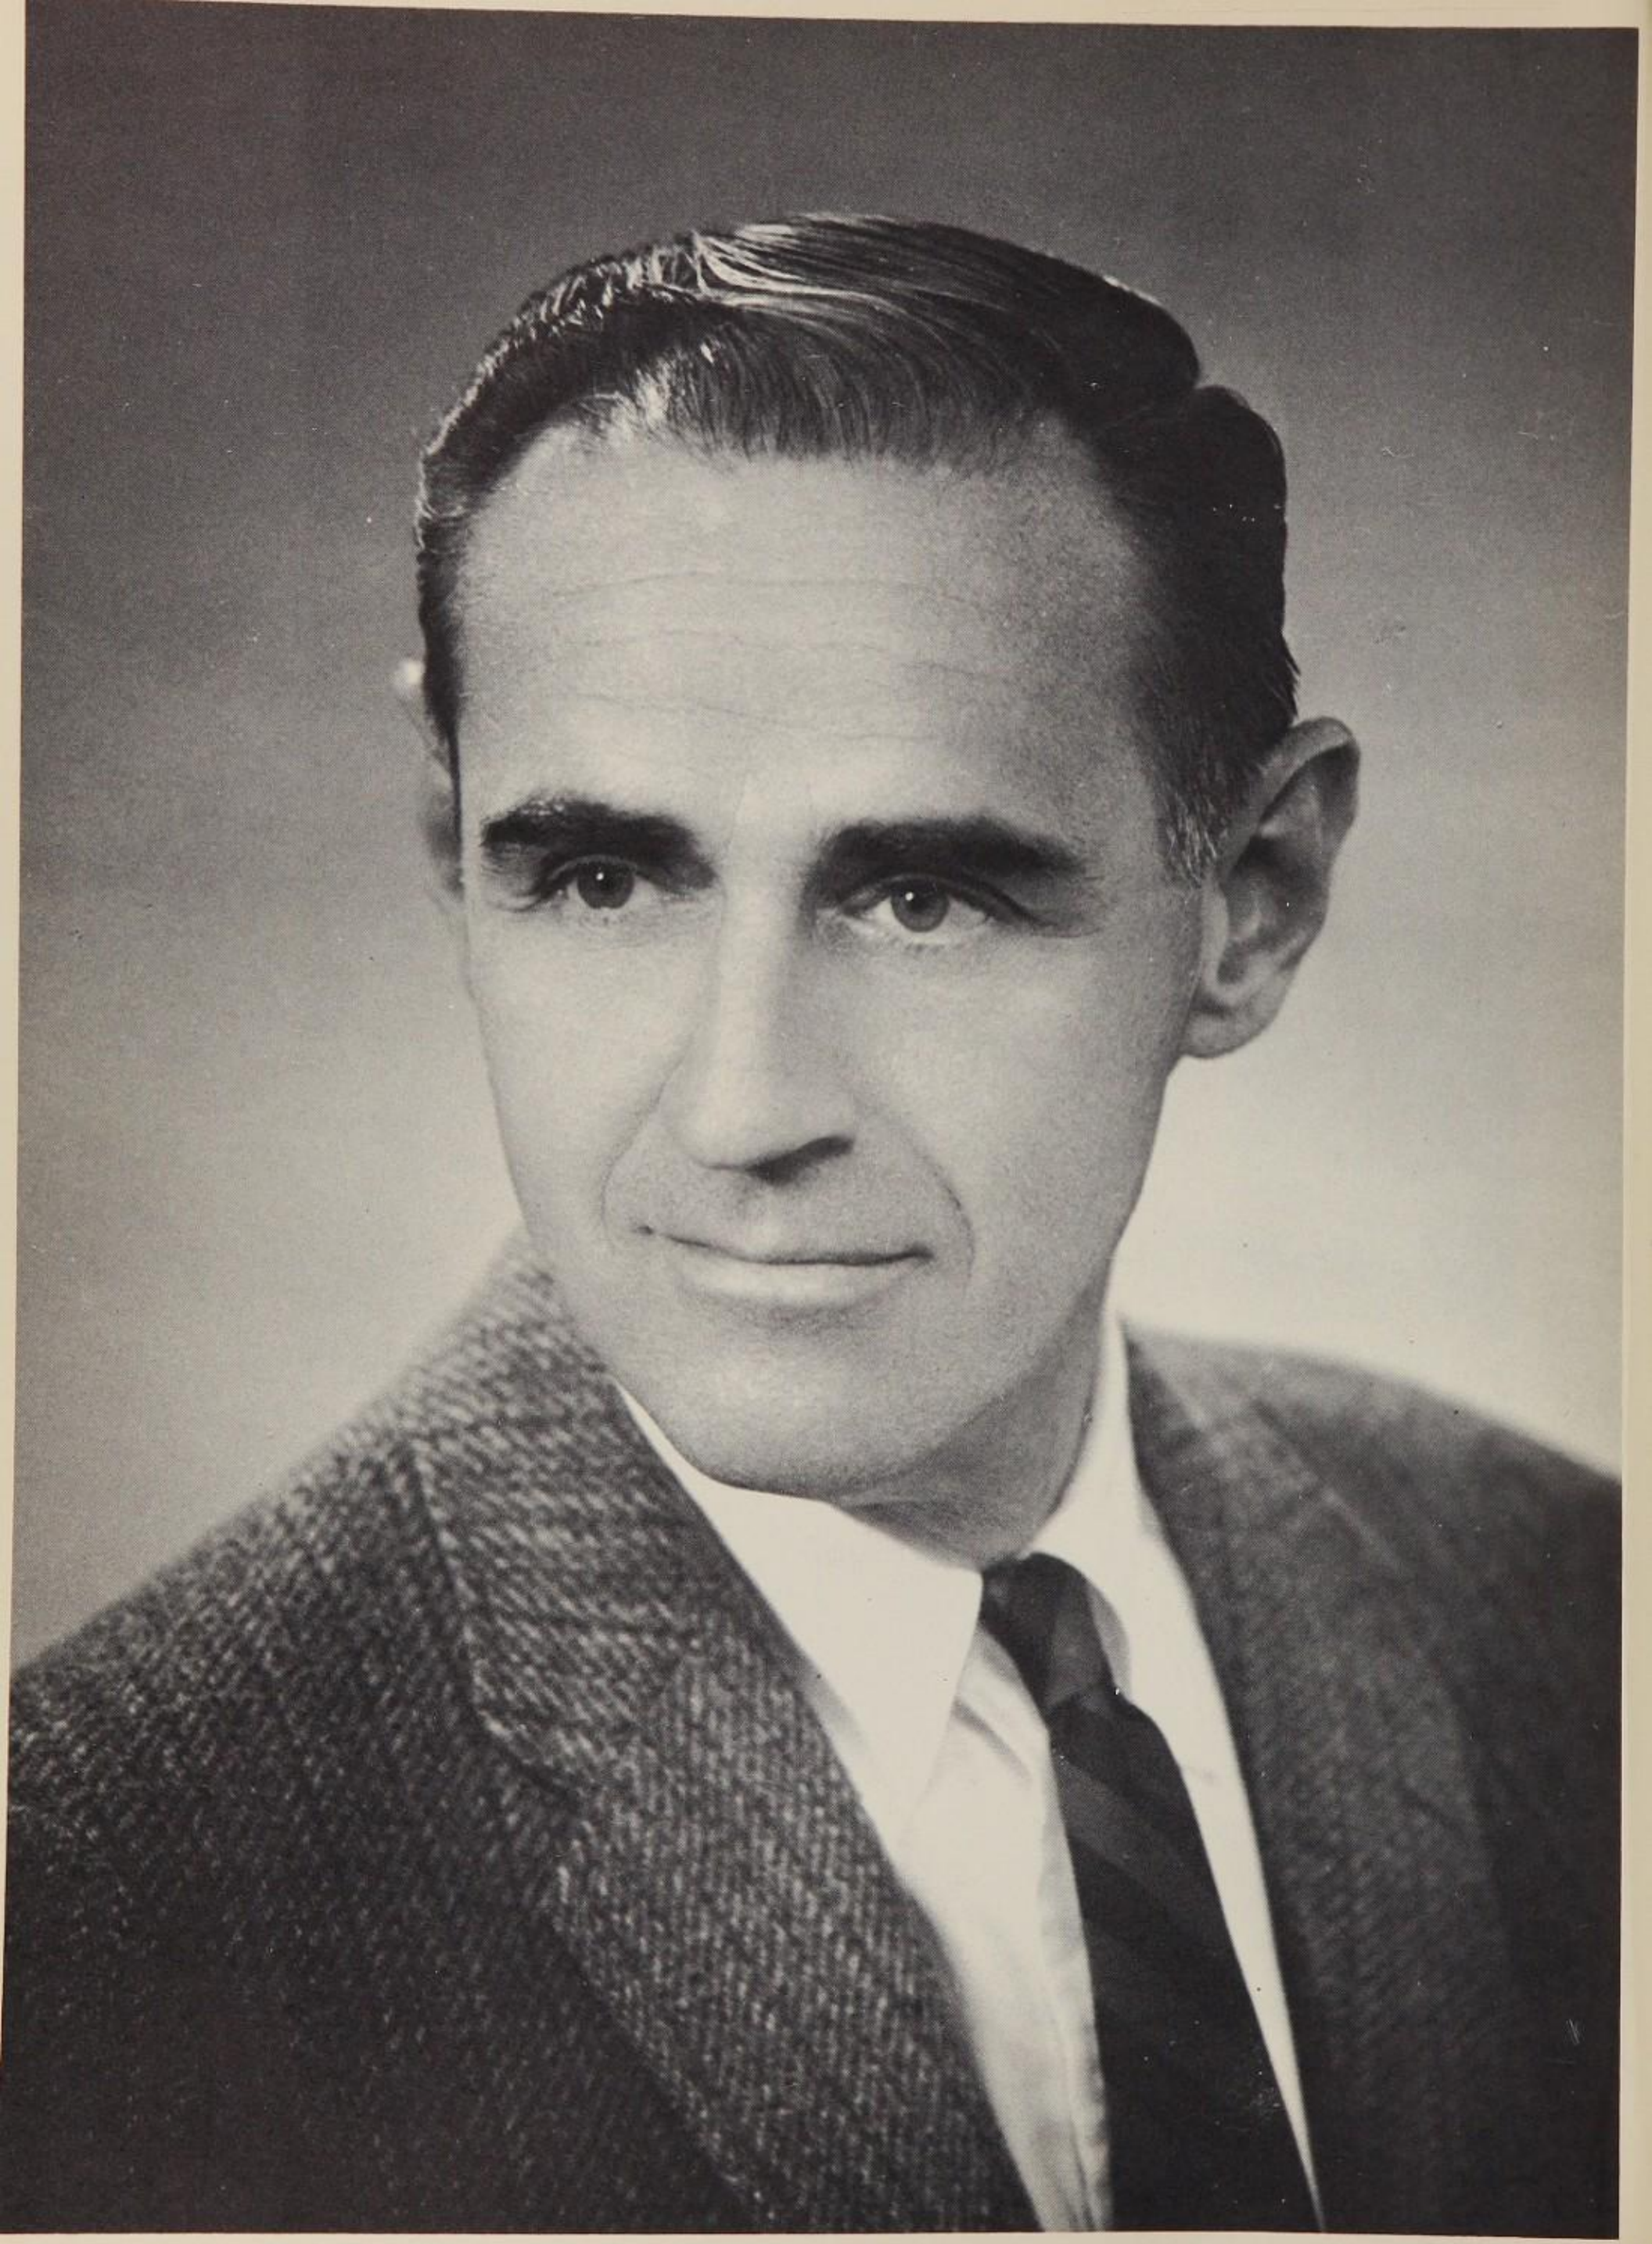
THE LOOMISCELLANY FOR 1962

LOOMIS SCHOOL — WINDSOR, CONNECTICUT



Mr. Lay, Chairman of the English Department and College Guidance Director, has been associated with Loomis since 1949. His remarkable capacities as a teacher, college advisor and friend have made him one of the most respected and popular members of the Loomis faculty.

Next year Mr. Lay will become Headmaster of the Palm Beach Preparatory School. The regret that he feels at his departure is shared by all who knew him. It is with a deep sense of admiration and respect that we dedicate the 1962 LOOMISCELLANY to

STUDENT COUNCIL

Paul Farren	President
John Deming	Vice-President
Fred Beams	Secretary

Student government of school life through the Council has become a reality this year. The Councilor has assumed responsibility for the smooth, efficient, and orderly operation of the Dormitory, the Study Hall, and the Day Student Social Rooms, and has been given the authority to enforce that responsibility justly and firmly. The Executive Committee, serving as the disciplinary organ concerned not merely with punishing delinquents but with helping them to solve their problems, has taken upon itself an interest in the welfare and development of the individual. This key committtee has also been the source of new ideas, proposals, and modifications, generating a creative and positive spirit in approach to school problems. Under the new system, guided by Mr. Ward and Mr. Wilson, morale and discipline have improved. A proven, responsible, efficient, and respected organization has thus been placed in the hands of next year's Council. Their job will be to smooth yet rough edges, continue and further responsible student authority, effect great co-ordination in dormitory life, and encourage more universal student participation.

POLITICAL-DEBATING CLUB

Neil Armstrong ..... President
Tom Press ..... Vice-President

In spite of the apathy among many of the members, the Political Debating Club showed some improvement this year. Led by President Neil Armstrong, the Club's program centered on a single theme in each of the first two terms. In the fall, the topic was Integration. An outside speaker who had participated in the "freedom rides" came to lecture and answer questions.

The winter term was devoted to the issue which has captured the attention of the nation on all levels, that of Conservatism vs. Liberalism. Social Security, Federal Aid to Education, and foreign policy were debated in full, with Liberals and Conservatives staunchly defending their positions. An unusual event was the visit of Connecticut State Senator John M. Lupton, a candidate for the Republican nomination for Governor, who spoke on his Conservative Philosophy. In the annual Chaffee-Loomis Debate, the Loomis team was narrowly defeated as it attempted to show that the United States should support a pro-Western dictator in the Dominican Republic.

Although there was no single theme during the spring term, the Club took part in a United Nations Model Assembly sponsored by the Foreign Policy Association and a model Organization of American States meeting held at Gunnery School. Departing from the traditional political topics, Vice-President Tom Press presented a talk on the subject of New York's drinking age; as might be expected, the meeting attracted an unusually large attendance.

Next year's officers—Doug Sterner, John Bremner, and John Taggart — have already promised an attempt to awaken an interest in those members who have been apathetic up to now, so that next year the Club can expect still further improvement.

GLEE CLUB

Hugh Duncan ..... President
Paul Konney ..... Librarian

With over half of its members back from last year, Loomis found itself with a very strong and experienced Glee Club. The members selected for the Club were challenging even for this veteran crew, but the boys worked diligently and achieved creditable results.

Mr. Frank E. House III, director of the Loomis Glee Club, scheduled several joint concerts with girls' schools, although many that have had joint concerts with Loomis in the past were not able to arrange a concert this year. An enjoyable joint concert with Mary C. Burnham at Loomis was the club's first engagement. In March the Emma Willard Glee Club came to the Island for a concert and informal dance.

In April Loomis participated in the Annual Preparatory Schools Music Festival with four other prep schools at the Bushnell Memorial Auditorium in Hartford, where the Loomies sang what was perhaps their best concert of the year. The following week Loomis journeyed to Greenwich for a concert with Rosemary Hall, the last joint concert of the year.

The last and most important engagement of the year came two weeks later when Loomis and fifteen other glee clubs presented the Annual Spring Choral Festival of Secondary Schools at the Bushnell. Dr. Mosche Paranov directed the Club when it participated in the first part of the program, Igor Stravinsky's Symphony of Psalms.

The Loomis Glee Club recorded its best songs, sharing the disc with the Pelicans. The Club completed the year by singing at the Class Night Exercises.

JUNTO

Paul Konney ..... Librarian

Once again JUNTO, Loomis's "community chest," stressed thoughtful giving in its annual campaign for funds from Loomis Students. The eight-man committee continued the system established two years ago of distributing pledge slips on which students could indicate where their money would go. Letters were posted on the Headmaster's bulletin board from various organizations throughout the year, thanking the students for their contributions.

This year's committee stressed two objectives in its annual drive: that fewer organizations be supported in order to increase the amount of money given to each, and that the money contributed be used chiefly for the aid and relief of people of our own age. Under the direction of its adviser, Mr. David Haller, the committee was able to fulfill these two objectives. It contributed to five charities, comprising work in education, relief, research, and rehabilitation.

JUNTO appropriated a sum of $400 to the area of cancer research and rehabilitation, $300 of which went to The Children's Hospital in Boston, and the remaining $100 to a Windsor family stricken with cancer. The sum of $275 went to The Newington Home for Crippled Children, while an equal amount was contributed to relief work in Hong Kong, under the direction of a Loomis alumnus. The Committee also contributed $200 to The United Negro College Fund and $150 to The Guide Dog Foundation.

The JUNTO Committee would like to take this opportunity to thank all the students for their contributions to a very successful drive, which allowed the Committee to contribute a total of $1300 to these five organizations.

DRAMATICS

This year Loomis fooled everyone and did an all-male play, Billy Budd, by Louis Coxe and Robert Chapman. What Chaffee lost in actresses, however, it gained in stage crew; and it was said that there were more people backstage than in the audience, even with the sophomore class required to attend. The play, a study of the conflict between absolute Good and Evil and their mutual destruction, was a great success. The title role was played by Phil Caesar, Captain Vere by Keith Hargreaves, and Claggart by Dick Nessen. All three were new to the NEO stage, but they played their parts seriously and with feeling. The ship's crew were: an Irishman O'Daniel played by Greig Siedor; a Dansker played by John Taggart; maintopmen by Dexter Bullard, Trevor Nightingale, Marsh Hay, Dave Willbern, John Goodell, Tom Hayes, and Neil Armstrong; and even a boy played cadaverously (?) by Mike Mariner. The officers were played by Peter Mott, Ed Maxcy, Hollis Huston, Rick Allstetter, Dan Jones, Jud Welsh, Mike Kinney, Andy Hassinger, John Davis, and Geoffrey Forbes.

The spring play, My Three Angels, by Sam and Bella Spewak, marked the return of Chaffee to the stage and a corresponding increase of interest in Loomis tryouts. The angels in question, three convicts named Joseph, Alfred, and Jules, were played by Dick Nessen, Dex Bullard, and Neil Armstrong respectively. Greig Siedor played the French storekeeper Felix Ducotel, and Nancy Budd, his wife. Keith Hargreaves was completely at home in the role of M. Trochard; his unpleasant son Paul was equally well played by Pete Mott. When Paul succumbs to the deadly caress of Adolph, the pet snake, Ducotel's daughter, played by Toni Randall, mourns his untimely end. (Toni's scream was magnificent.) Dian Buck as Mme. Parole gave life to the play by being enjoyably self-righteous, and she screamed at least as well as Toni.

Director Mr. Spencer Grey is to be commended for the smoothness of the plays and for not going stark-raving mad in spite of the Stagehands' Union's efforts. The Union provided two fine sets, efficient production, and lots of dates for both cast parties.

With only two starters returning from last year's undefeated squad, the 1961 football team found it tough going this fall. In a year with unusually powerful opponents, everyone was out for Loomis, dedicated to revenging last year's defeats.

In the opening game against Wilbraham, Loomis stretched its winning streak to twelve games. While the defense of Ned Coster, Dick Bosson, Mike Fox and George Hamilton continually frustrated the enemy, Captain Fred Beams scored twice to give the Pelicans a 14-0 win.

The following Saturday at Choate, Loomis lost its first game since 1959. Nevertheless, outstanding in this game were Beams, Dave Weissman, John O'Brien and Dennis Tippo. At Williston the Pelicans were bogged down by mud and blinding rain and were forced to settle for a heartbreaking 6-6 tie. The next Saturday, despite scores by Dennis Tippo and Captain Beams, the Islanders fell again, 26-12, to a hard-fighting team from Suffield.

At Watertown, despite fine showings by Tim Day, Frank Lloyd and Dan Gleason, the Pelicans fell 46-18. Hosting Hotchkiss the following Saturday, Loomis played good ball the first half, but unable to keep it up, succumbed in the last quarter. At Kent, Loomis ran all over the field with its best offensive display of the year. Hurt by a leaky pass defense, however, Loomis fell victim to Kent's long aerials and lost, 26-20.

The future of next year's team is highly promising with six experienced lettermen returning under the leadership of captain-elect Jim McGill.

This year's Loomis soccer team started out well, winning three out of its first four contests. The squad was led by Captain George Meyfarth and four other returning lettermen: halfbacks Dick Hall, Brian Clemow, and Paul Konney, and right wing Bob Worcester.

The first game on the schedule proved to be the only shutout garnered by the booters all year. In this contest the Mt. Hermon eleven was defeated 2-0 on two rifle shots by Bob Worcester. Overconfidence felled the Islanders in their second contest as Watkinson pulled an unexpected 2-0 upset on their own field.

The highlight of the season came as Loomis crushed a powerful Wilbraham team, which went on to take the league championship, by a score of 2-1. Dick Hall and "Roo" Meyfarth were responsible for the Maroon tallies. In the next match, Avon was downed 3-1 on two early goals by Meyfarth and another by French-exchange-student Gerard Vilcot, who played left inside.

From this point on, the Pelicans simply could not seem to find their winning touch. They dropped a 1-0 heartbreaker to Williston in the midst of a downpour, and lost to a previously-unscored-upon Deerfield team, 3-1. Subsequent losses to Suffield 2-0, Taft 2-1, Hotchkiss 1-0, Choate 3-2, and Kent 3-1 were incurred in spite of scoring efforts by Dick Hall, George Meyfarth, and Perley Grimes.

Great credit must be given to goalie Brad Tillson, who with no previous varsity experience managed to do an excellent job in the nets. Dick Hall shone as right halfback and will return as captain next year.

Lacking the depth of last year's highly successful squad, the 1961 Cross Country team lost all its six scheduled meets. In the opening meet with Mt. Hermon, Sam Guilbeau placed first for Loomis but ninth overall. Chip Hayward and Mark Doyle were injured in this meet and did not recover until the end of the season.

In the second meet the Avon harriers surprised Loomis 15-45. The Loomis team was still out of condition at the time, but Sam Guilbeau again managed to place first for Loomis.

Weaver High School, the 1961 Hartford Champions, gave Loomis its third defeat as powerful Jim Harderman led thirteen Weaver harriers over the finish line before Loomis's captain, Dick Barrett, led the Pelican team across. The skill of the Weaver team was nevertheless beneficial to Loomis, for it encouraged many of the Loomis thinclads to give their best performance of the season. Weaver repeated its 15-50 win in the last meet of the season. In both the Taft and Choate meets bad luck plagued the Loomis harriers as they fell by scores of 15-50 and 15-48.

Although Loomis had a poor season, muc h new talent was discovered in Chris Kutteruf, Steve Howard and John Oleson. Under the lea dership of co-captains-elect, Sam Guilbeau and Ted Noyes, the Loomis harriers are looking f orward to a successful season next fall.

The Loomis basketball team had a fairly good year in 1962 with a season of nine wins and seven losses. Although the season's opening game ended with a last-second Choate basket and a disappointing 42-40 loss, Captain Dick Landerman quickly led the team into the win column with easy victories over Kent, 51-38, and Cranwell, 62-42. The ball-handling of Dave Deutsch proved devastating to these two teams. In the following game, however, Williston somehow held Deutsch in check, and even though Tim Day contributed his best game of the season, Loomis lost 43-51.

At Suffield, Loomis was down 30-19 at the end of the first half, but by the end of the game a determined Loomis squad had cut the lead to one slim point, 40-39. When Denny Tippo sent the game into overtime by sinking a last-second free throw, Loomis caught fire and won 45-40.

A hard loss to Westminster, 32-52, and an easy win over Milford, 56-36, led up to the Wilbraham game in which Pete Weinstein and Tippo combined for 33 points and led Loomis to a 58-46 victory. In the next game Hopkins beat the Pelicans 36-34. After beating Suffield again, 34-31, Loomis took a 60-40 shelling from Deerfield and barely withstood another Wilbraham attack, winning by only one point, 45-44. The season closed with two more wins over Williston and Taft and a loss to Deerfield.

Pete Jones is the captain-elect for the 1963 season. Although he and Bill Brandt are the only returning lettermen, there will be reserve strength in Jon Gehris, Mike Grubb, Ted Noyes, and John Perkins.

The 1962 Loomis rifle team had an exceptionally fine season, winning twelve matches, losing two and tieing one. The team was sparked by the fine shooting of its seniors, led by John Heyl and Captain Steve Burrall. Several of the shooters returned from last year's team and formed a strong foundation.

The team finished the season with a commendable match average of 899, despite several low scores at the beginning of the season. John Heyl took the individual high score with a 191, while Captain Steve Burrall led the team with a match average of 185. Other high scorers included John Heyl with a 180 average, Chuck Phillips with a 178, Bill Bausch with a 177, Ron Schleppy with a 174, Mike Procek with a 171, and Tom Press with a 171.

The most unusual match of the year occurred at Choate and ended with both teams wondering what had happened. When the final scores were figured, it was discovered that the teams had tied, a very rare event in rifle matches.

The final match of the season was by far the most gratifying for the team. Manchester had defeated the Pelicans once and was trying for an undefeated season. The Loomis sharpshooters were out to avenge a string of earlier defeats, however, and this was the last Loomis match for the seniors. When the scores were in, Loomis had turned back Manchester 921-900, mostly on the strength of the seniors.

With only one returning letterman, Ron Schleppy, next year's team will have to work hard. Both Leon Harris and Peter Mott saw extensive match action this year and should bring added support. With some good shooters from this year's clubs, the team should achieve a satisfactory record.

Both inexperience and hard luck combined to make the 1962 Wrestling season a dismal one. Loomis first fell victim to a powerful Taft team, the eventual State Champions. Hank Kravis, Ned Coster, and John Coster kept the day from being a total loss, however, as they each registered decisions.

The next match was little better as the grapplers succumbed to a strong Wilbraham team. Ned Coster atoned for the team's otherwise poor showing by pinning his opponent within the first thirty seconds of his match. A shoulder injury sidelined Joe Rosenbloom for the rest of the season.

The following Saturday the matmen journeyed to Mt. Hermon where they were defeated, 30-15. Captain Ned Coster injured his ankle and was forced to miss the next two matches.

The team then dropped a match to Hopkins Grammar by the lopsided score of 34-9. Alex Berger picked up his first win of the year, defeating Hopkins's captain. John Sunderland and John Coster also won.

The Kent match was by far the team's best showing. The wrestlers lost 31-18, but they had to forfeit two matches due to injuries. John Potter, Kravis, Sunderland, and John Coster picked up wins.

Thereafter the team went further downhill, losing all three of its remaining matches. Ned Coster went undefeated. Brother John was 6 and 2. Potter, Kravis, Berger, and Sunderland also wrestled well despite extremely difficult weight classes, and Dave Cane was never pinned.

Both Costers, Kravis, Sunderland and Potter wrestled in the Connecticuts, with Ned taking a second and brother John a third. Returning next year are five lettermen, among them co-captains-elect Kravis and Sunderland.

The 1962 Hockey team, heavily manned with eight returning lettermen, compiled a highly successful record of nine wins and three losses. It established itself as the best hockey team Loomis has produced since the installation of the artificial rink in 1956. A fast-skating aggregation, this year's squad tallied 79 goals, an average of nearly seven goals a game, and won handily throughout most of the season.

Loomis began the season on a sour note, bowing to Kent in a poorly played game. The Pelicans quickly rebounded, however, and defeated Suffield, Hopkins, and Wilbraham. The junior line of Dick Hall, Rick Whitehead, and Spence Hays led the attack as the Warrenmen scored 34 goals, while limiting the opposition to a mere four.

After their lackadaisical performance against powerful Deerfield, the Pelicans once again hit their stride, beating South Kent, Longmeadow High, and Hill. At Hill the junior line once again paved the way to victory.

The squad returned home, only to lose to a very talented and aggressive Taft team. Sparked by the excellent play of the senior line of Fred Beams, Dan Gleason, and Dave Weissman, Loomis then bounced back to defeat soundly Williston and East Longmeadow High. The defense of Pete Chapin, Pete Doherty, and Captain Paul Farren was outstanding as Loomis ended its season successfully. Of no small help were goalies Lloyd and Thompson.

Dick Hall and Rick Whitehead, co-captains-elect and high scorers this past season, should lead next year's squad to another successful season.

The true quality of this year's Baseball team is not revealed by the final record (0-11-1). With a few breaks, the club could have finished with a .500 or better record. In only three of the games was the difference greater than three runs. The squad averaged nine runs per game for the first four games, but since the team was inexperienced, the defense and pitching were a little weak. Later, when the pitching was sound, the hitting fell off.

The heartbreaker of this season was the Kent game. Playing away in front of a Parents' Day crowd, the Pelicans lost, 6-5, as Kent recorded three runs in the bottom of the ninth inning. The one tie of the season was against a fine Milford Prep team; the score was 6-6. Milford had to stage a late rally as they recorded five runs in the last two innings to tie. The Pelicans also played well against once-beaten Wilbraham but lost, 6-4, as the opposition scored five unearned runs in the first inning.

The year was highlighted by the hitting of George Hamilton and Captain Tim Day, who batted .410 and .350 respectively. Both also banged out the only home runs of the season.

Starting pitcher John Gehris was elected next year's captain.

The season's opener was at Wilbraham on a chilly afternoon. The Pelican weightmen did well, but the hosts used their superiority in the running department to vanquish their hosts with relatively little trouble. Loomis came closer in a meet with Hotchkiss, but in spite of fine efforts on the part of the Maroon and Grey sprinters, hurdlers, and jumpers, Hotchkiss pulled through with a 68-63 win.

The Islanders suddenly caught fire in the middle of the season, defeating Taft 67-64, Trinity Frosh 64-58, and Williston 82-39 in a runaway. Instrumental in the three victories were Captain Dave Weissman, George Meyfarth, Pete Weinstein, Rich Rapoport, Jeff Thompson, Ned Coster, Steve Howard, Bob Worcester, Pete Chapin, Dick Barrett, Hugh Duncan, and Brian Clemow. In their last regular meet the Islanders fell to a strong Choate squad, in a discouraging contest which showed that experience is essential.

Loomis pulled one of the biggest surprises of the year when they came from behind in the quadrangular meet at Taft and upset Taft, Hotchkiss, and Choate. Things were close from the beginning, with Choate the early leaders. But Ned Coster won the hammer throw, Pete Weinstein took the shot, George Meyfarth the broad jump, and Rich Rapoport the 220, to bring the Islanders within striking distance of the title. The thrilling finale came with the relay, in which Loomis took Taft while Hotchkiss beat Choate. The final scores were: Taft 28, Choate and Hotchkiss 44½, and Loomis victorious with 46½.

Next year's track team will be captained by Pete Chapin.

Led by Captain Pete Jones, Steve Weiner, and Paul Schwartz, the Loomis Tennis Team finished the season with a record of 6 wins, 6 losses, and 1 tie. With Pete Jones and Steve Weiner the only returning lettermen, the outlook for the season had been poor, but the Loomis team fought to attain an exceptional record and exceed their predicted potential.

The team began with a victory against Wilbraham and a tie against league-rival Berkshire, but from there they lost successive matches to Williston, Wesleyan, Taft, and Kent, and the outlook for the remainder of the season was ominous. The ladder for the season was extremely flexible with Weiner, Schwartz, and Jones starting out in the first three positions, followed by John Perkins, Day Patterson, and Rick Whitehead in the 4, 5, and 6 slots. Weiner and Schwartz did a good job, although they ran into some difficult opposition; Jones and Perkins remained consistent winners.

With continual effort and practice, the team came to life in the second half of the season, winning five out of their last seven matches. They lost to strong Choate and Deerfield teams, while posting wins over Trinity, Milford, Westminster, Cheshire, and Hotchkiss. Perhaps the most satisfying victory was the last one of the season over Hotchkiss. Here the Loomis squad showed that they had attained the depth that they had been striving for all season.

Seniors Steve Weiner and Day Patterson will be departing, but with five of the seven lettermen returning, the prospects for next season are excellent. Led by Captain-elect Paul Schwartz, the Loomis team should do well in 1963.

As spring slowly turned into summer, the spirit of the Lacrosse Team and its followers rapidly changed from the joy found in any fast sport to the excited enthusiasm found in witnessing exceptional skill and teamwork.

After beating Kingswood in two scrimmages and winning a hard game against the Wesleyan Freshman team, it became apparent that the team had great potentialities. It was also obvious that Fred Beams's powerful shot would be a basic element of our success. Beams scored 26 goals, setting a new school record, and averaged over three goals per game.

Coach Wilson's hard work and drilling paid off in two of the toughest games, Williston and Trinity. Both these teams had powerful attacks which posed a great challenge to the Loomis defense of Kennedy, Tippo, and Butterworth, and goalie Bob Cothran. The Loomis attack of Hays, Hall, and Hislop, and middies Gillespie and Ferguson proved that even double-teaming Beams could not stop our team from scoring.

The season's record at this point was 5-0, and the possibility of an undefeated season added to the excitement. The loss to Choate, although it spoiled an otherwise perfect season, proved that Loomis could play well against excellent opposition. Victories over Avon and Milford brought the final record up to 7 wins, 1 loss, the best in lacrosse's three-year history at Loomis.

The 1963 season promises to be good. The loss of Beams, captain and high scorer for two years, and Farren, will weaken the midfield, but their places will be filled by Gillespie, Ferguson, McGill and Neubert. The defense will lose Kennedy, Tippo, Butterworth, and Bosson, but Ted Noyes shows great ability for next year's crease, and goalie Cothran will be better than ever. Although losing Bausch, this year's starting attack will return, featuring captain-elect Spencer Hays.

SEPTEMBER

With restful summer months passing all too fast seniors receive word from Advisers Waldo and Wils that they should return a few days early to greet their new "little brothers". Most arrive on time and in good shape — though Dem seems a bit the worse for wear — and are greeted with an excellent barbecue and pep talk to boot.

We find that things have changed a bit since last we trod the Island' sod. The Science Center is beginning to look impressive although still far from completed. Word has it that it will be ready by Christmas vacation. It seems the old Bio. lab is now the Senior Room. A new foundation has been installed, but the old smell still lingers. It's going to take a lot of work, but Foxy and Hayes are already full of plans.

Before long the old routine begins again as all try to readjust their minds and lungs to the rigors of school life. The Moonmen are hard at work with Muzzy gleefully directing tackling practice. Daily visits to the Country Kitchen resume, and the executive committee of the Cozy Corner Club is elected. Even the "Freudian Club" holds its first meeting of the new year. Their efforts at invading jockdom, however, fall short as "Danielie" resigns in favor of First Team Football.

General MacArthur introduces his new hour system. Seems like those Saturday night lecture-room hack sessions have been removed and all offenders are now being given the opportunity to try their skill at physical labor. Full participation is encouraged by Waldo's new bull whip.

Summer-shortened September is quick to leave, but not before Football has racked up number twelve.

OCTOBER

As October opens the leaves begin to fall and so do all athletic teams. The streak is finally snapped against Choate despite the efforts of a certain magnificent Bear. The Shackmen too find victories sparse. The only bright spot seems to be the melodious strains of Beatt's trumpet.

October is not far gone when tragedy rears its ugly head. There are many sad faces around the island as Alfredo departs. While some wonder whether he quit or was fired, most agree he must miss Shmidtie.

Venda-pile crashes a Senior Seminar and offers his own special contribution, but is soon ejected.

A new fad develops . . . those West Hartford orgies sponsored by the dayhops. Say Boob, who is the "Candy-man"? . . . Bra's Volks fits seven and still moves along. "Who did really drop that cigarette anyhow?" By the way, Volkswagens also hold lots of leaves, don't they? Sarge disapproves and as a result the Work Squad is overflowing.

FOG's announcement of Woody's departure for the Wild West evokes a standing ovation and DEW obliges with a salute "Thank you, Gentlemen", he replies, with characteristic humility. Sherman is ushered in to assume "responsibilities". . .

Rebel misses Jensen at Hotchkiss, but throws a beautiful block on the dayboy bus.

The Tag highlights the month with his "trick or treating". Stooks questions in amazement, "Did you go alone, John?"

Reply: "He who travels fastest, travels alone. 'Kipling."

In any event October departs in relative peace.

NOVEMBER

November flows in with a smell of Four Roses on Palmer II. Tim and Wiggler have a little party — and the band plays on. Erotic noises from the promgoers are drowned out by the Terrible Two's babblings. Both take two, and Red, Boob, and VPDIII are included in the housecleaning. Vin tells us that he is socially injured by the whole affair next morning . . . poor kid. Big Tips is ushered in to take El Vin's place and wield the Big Stick on Warham I. Limey seems to be lonesome in that big room so some dayhops keep him company at night.

Ralph's boys continue to startle the fans and drop a heartbreaker to the Kenties. "Schenck, you've done a very, very poor job all year." "But sir, I haven't played. . ." "In other words, you mess around one thing 'n another, that leads to this, that, 'n the other. . ." Muzzy seems to have his spirits revived when he received liquid refreshment as a post season gift. "Now understand me, ah dawn't drink, but I shoah do like to look at it haard."

Stars are seen in Rebel's eyes. When questioned about the whole thing, Reb replies,

"Y'know, I've heard of guys suing bus companies for thirty million. . ."

One of the more stellar employees lets go in the kitchen and is seen packing the next day. A few of the more musically inclined students (i.e. Foxy and Jonesy) start a new trend in modern music as they give a sweet rendition of Handel's Messiah a la marraca and woodblocks.

Hull P. is showing a prospective Loomie around school when there appears to be a gymnastics class in Taylor social room. GUW is walking around the floor on his hands with his mouth moving. The wizened one explains, "That's one of our history teachers."

Turkey day comes—and—goes and everyone welcomes it as a pleasant rest. Next morning —EXAM schedules—here, there, and everywhere. Aaaahh!—college! Harvard or Moosejaw?

DECEMBER

December rushes in with a fury as eighty-eight blurry-eyed seniors thank God for their breakfast pers. Hum arguments are in at last, and most of us at least can heave a weary sigh of relief. Better make it quick though boys, for college boards are fast approaching.

Speaking of college, DML announces that all applications must be in by December 5th. Cane finds that filling out the forms is harder than the boards themselves. The Photography Club distributes the results of its efforts to supply earlier pictures . . . "GROSS!" looks like it's back to the smiling Defort for next year.

Spencer's production proves a mild success when Caesar ends in a fit of emotion: "God bless Captain Vere." Limey does a commendable job, but all miss the customary contribution of female faces.

Glover generously installs a floor in the senior room, and Perro Loco donates a T.V. to the cause. The plea goes up for money and furniture. "Just six dollars apiece should cover all overhead, boys."

B. Ball eagerly anticipating a good season, begins early workouts as Wiggler returns just in time to complement the array while. . .

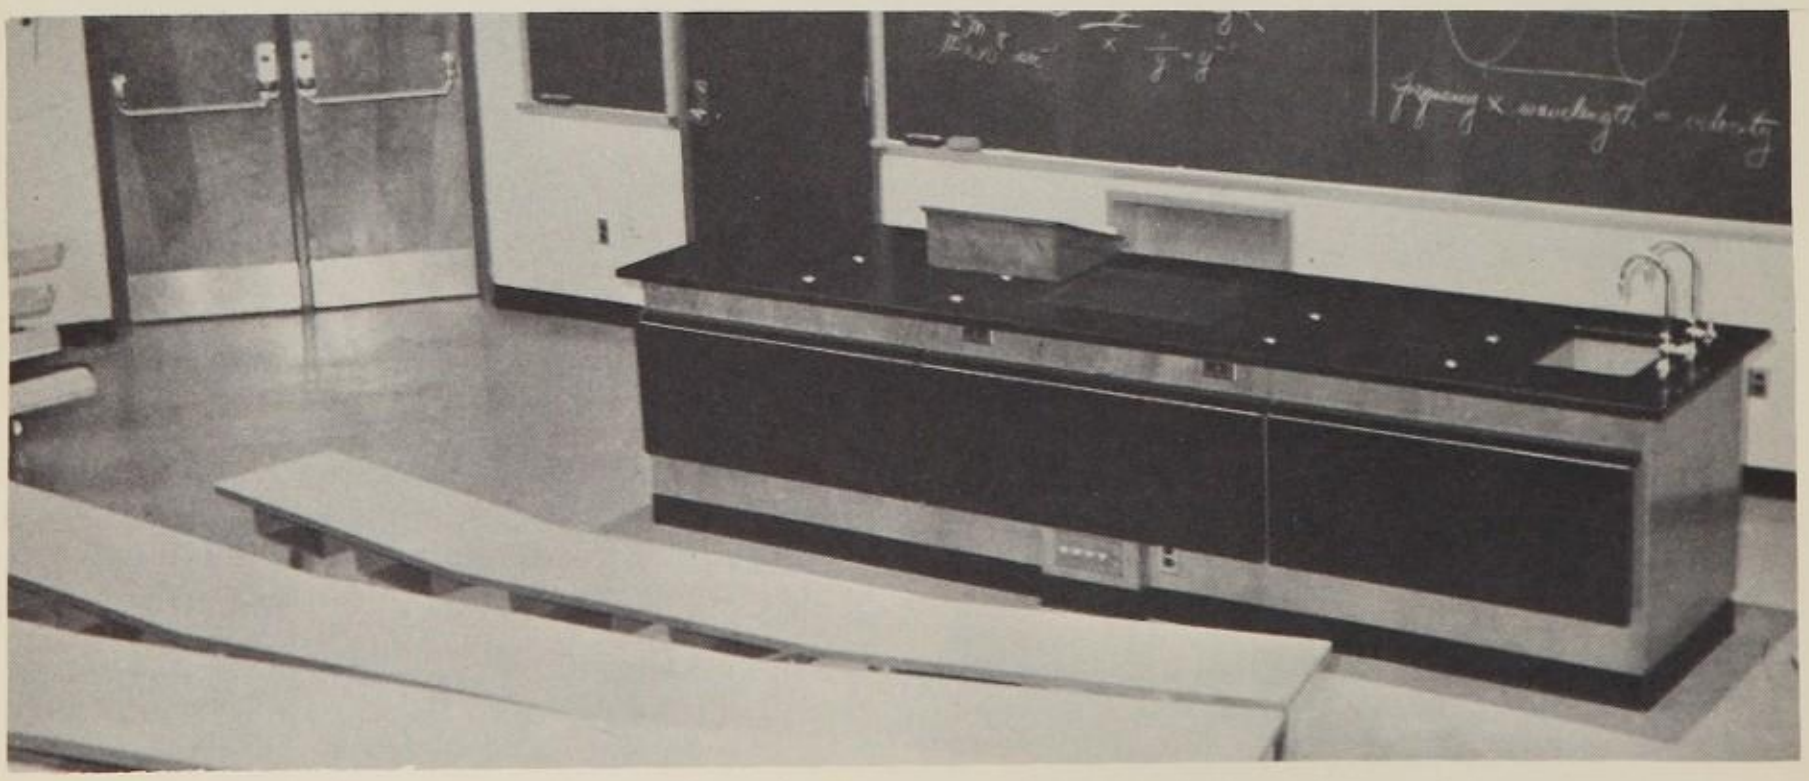
Off in another far away corner Prag psycho-analyses his squad and all reports are that this could be the best team yet. Joff is not quite so optimistic, but Rebel and his kid brother at least look good.

Meanwhile back at the quad, Nicholas Nodoz calls for all physics lab books a week before exams. "And remember boys," he yawns, "the one with the prettiest pictures wins first prize."

A few of the more aggressive of us take advantage of Stook's humanities lecture in the theater to carry the 'experiment in co-education' to extremes. "Notice," says Stooks, "the beautiful lines." Most agree unanimously.

With exams looming overhead, Dutch and the boys make one last fling. Batch I is converted into the Peppermint Lounge for the evening after the Christmas Service with the girls across the Farmington. All have a ball except "af" who becomes a bit distressed.

Suddenly exams are upon us. Biology climaxes a stimulating term when Squirrel forgets to bring the exams and Tabby sobs in disappointment. The worst is quickly over, however, and all turn their eyes toward greener pastures. The group departs—most for Twitch's or Phil's—with the once bright hopes of Yale or Harvard fast fading into the dust of yesteryear.



JANUARY

Snow and minus 10 degree weather provide a dreary welcome but the year gets off to a good start nonetheless. Hum lectures are moved to the newly completed Science Center, and visiting lecturers seem quite impressed with the new layout—that is until they discover that the little man at the master controls has not yet figured out all those new switches. Mrs. E. tells the Chaffee girls to keep their legs crossed—for good luck, maybe?

Senior Bio. classes have to be curtailed a bit as the Director of the Science Department finds too much to do. It doesn't really matter though because the boys already know that "the First National does have a back door." Meanwhile, upstairs the boys are playing with slinkies as Nick goes on to the "ideas of the next chapter."

Wally makes an attempt to adlib in Chapel as the few who manage to remain awake try in vain to make sense out of the latest Franny and Zooey episode.

Help is offered to the less fortunate as Assistant Chaplain, Father Freud, continues to dole out five-cent psychiatry.

Choate narrowly squeezes by in the basketball opener, but things don't look too bad as Landy and Ringer show lots of poise. Tabby goes into a slight slump when his twenty-five shirts disappear (the work of VP and Bojo), but all is resolved when he finds them at the breakfast table.

Student-faculty relations reach a new high on the hockey rink. The spirited pucksters develop a warm understanding with their coach, while 'Pops' balances atop the railing feverishly smoking cigarettes and discussing the "socio. . ."

Snow begins to fall again and ushers in. . .

FEBRUARY

The shortest of months turns out to be about the unhappiest for most Loomis seniors. Council elections prove disasterous for two of the hierarchy and carbuncles invade Warham. The Butch's life changes but little as the Bear bewails his loss.

The free weekend brings a ray of hope. Most of us depart for a little wine (Davey Wilb and the guy below him live to regret it), women (they never did show up, eh, Tabby and Vars?), and song. (?)

The athletes shine. Mosha resigns from the grapplers after compiling a fine record of 0-23. To follow up, the magnificent Mosh tells Gestapo his opinion of contemporary Loomis life in a heated early morning discussion. The Big Stick reigns supreme, however, as he ties Suffield after bouncing his first foul shot off the scoreboard.

By some strange coincidence, History, Econ, and Hum papers are due within three days of each other. Coffee pots (especially the W.C.C.'s) and lights burn late as we struggle to get 1) extensions 2) mercy 3) them in on time, having found the first two unobtainable. Big Red stays up 48 hours straight to wind up something about existentialism and has a slight N.B. next morning.

Nick becomes entranced with the "Friendship 7" and has his Physics classes mull over the flight for weeks. He has it all over Cape Canaveral! Another member of the Science department declares that he no longer has to "ride horse" on the new Science Building. He then proceeds to lay out plans for "a literal 220 yard dash through the phylum Chordata."

MARCH

March arrives, and with it, Florida's palms waving over the horizon as spring vacation approaches out of the slushy abyss of the winter term. Mad Anthony girds his considerable loins for the annual marathon 1200 mile dash . . . Limey runs from dorm to dorm in search of a ride, a Florida homestead, and culture . . . No matter how the lure of sunshine and native dancing girls may beckon, however, two weeks remain before Independence Day. In that time, lights burn bright as we try for a third Hum paper extension.

Buenos boils his third set of fighting fish, gives up, and switches to raising guppies on coffee grounds.

Defort D. arrives once more for group pictures and even remembers to bring his camera. Ralph arrives in time to find June Bug posing virtually au naturel for the 5:10 Club picture, and decrees that members of this select group must wear uniforms — leopard skin jock straps? Defort settles for torn T-shirts.

Sandy, under pretence of walking Willy, said by some to be a retired German Shepherd police dog in disguise, apprehends a certain Mr. M. Dog where he shouldn't be when he shouldn't be. Dog claims he was only taking the night air, but he gets fulls anyway. Who was it that said, "Nothing more can happen to me now!" This makes Sandy's second "accidental" nocturnal encounter of the week. Shame the first one was a dayboy, eh, Chuck?

Pragmatic G. ponders the Renaissance of the P.D. Club as Barbara Weiss tells us why we shouldn't support dictators. His only mistake is having her as first speaker. Consequently, no one sticks around to hear Loomis' own Bod argue affirmatively. That night half of Loomis wishes it were `Dutch 'or dead.

With finals once again upon our weary heads the school is suddenly shocked by the news of a case of plagerism. FOG offers a wise word of warning to all. Soon exams are over and except for the tear-stained cheeks of the Physics students, we make it through and home to bed. (heh)

APRIL

Spring term opens amid considerable complaints that winter has not yet disappeared as die-hard patches of snow refuse to relinquish the fight. Dark-skinned, vacation-weary Loomies stumble back from the southland nonetheless, some sporting bronzes that put even Abbo to shame.

"... And it came to pass after seven days that the waters of the flood were upon the earth."

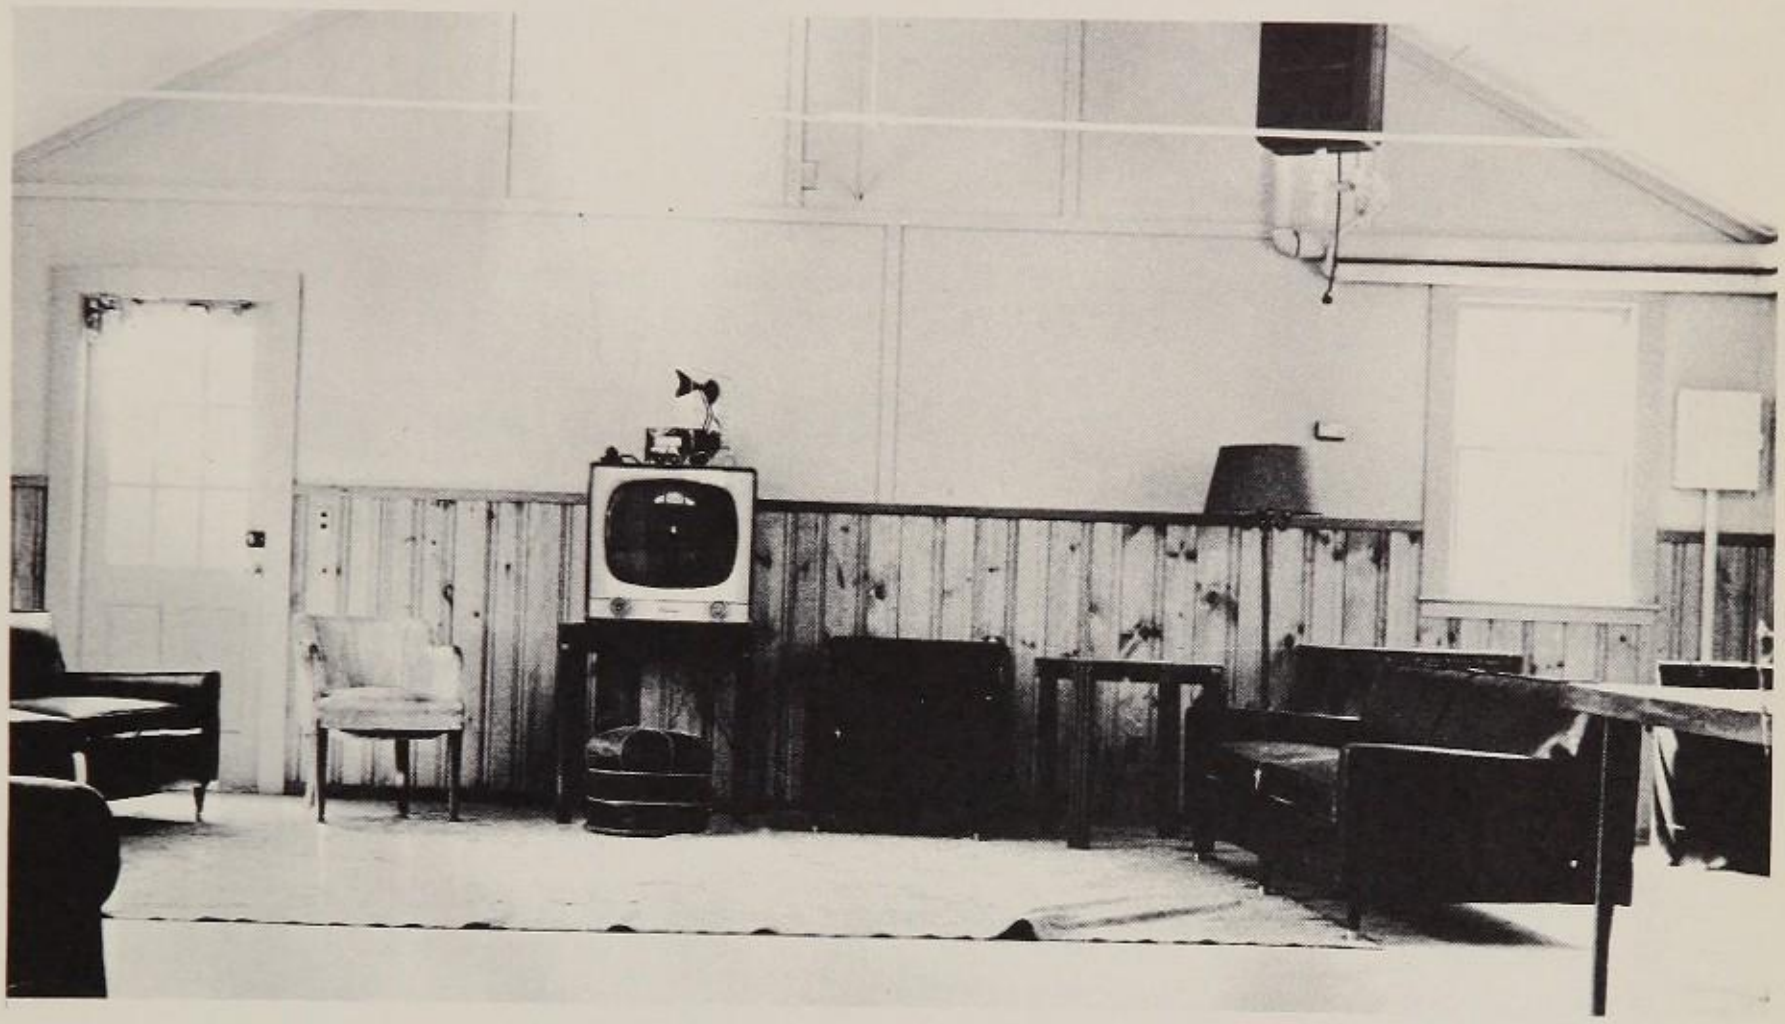
The island once again proves its worth as Uncle Ralph continues to tear his hair in hopes that his diamond will be spared. Joff is seen hammering away in his back yard. Some say it's the latest thing in arks, but Joff claims to have other uses in mind.

One Monday the sixteenth fast is upon us and terror-stricken seniors invade the mail corridor. Even the Stick emerges from the books just long enough to find that Yale approves. Screams of joy and disbelief permeate the campus as Boob proudly displays his Princeton laurels signed in person by his father's college roomie. Five years and $400 in college applications but June-bug finally made it. Not all news is good news though. Chawles will miss the Haavard Yaad, but then . . . Yampa Valley is a fine small midwestern institution of higher learning....

The spring play opens with rave reviews but closes in disaster for a few. An extra-curricular outing by Bobo and Jules is uncovered by a wandering Whale. Luckily the smoke has cleared before the fireworks begin, but both manage to pull fulls anyway.



April closes with sunny days. OB and Bonny Jon organize daily expeditions to sun and surf, and before we know it we're into the merry merry month of MAY.

MAY

Mayday brings a track purge. Bobo's honor is tainted as Joff takes his own attendance and nabs 20 "fairweather" trackmen skipping. You can tell it's spring; even Big Stick feels it — he spends Hum oogling a certain Carol...

Michaels is apprehended making off with Ginger Peachy (Miss May), the darling of Warham second. Justice is swift, though; and he spends many gross hours polishing shoes.

The annual Rumble arrives. As word that Ely house is emperiled circulates, Loomies materialize from all points, translating perhaps too loosely that time-worn saying, "ne cede malis." The only antagonists that dare set foot on sacred Ely soil are some disgruntled cops, though. Undaunted by protests ("but I was just going to this political meeting in town...") they manage to collect names and a slur on the honor of law enforcement in Bloomfield. Funny how all of a sudden everyone went just to break it up, eh?...

Soon the Prom approaches, but so does Ray Charles—which to see? Some solve the problem by planning to take them both in. We seniors are first to receive our dates, and the show is on. The Friday dance is very successful, although Joff wonders the next day about all that sawdust on the track field. Moonlit windsprints, perhaps? The prom itself is fun for all—even the ducklings arrive despite the fine weather! Towards the end it begins to sound like the battle of Midway, though. Dates are shot down right and left — even an occasional satellite. Sunday morning comes, and with it, the highlight of the prom: Wally forgetting the Lord's Prayer in chapel, and then a talk on the virtues of motherhood. Think we don't know? . . . Dunc does it again—only he could combine the prom, Ray Charles, the beach, and Barb all in one weekend.

While some of us are enjoying the prom, others learn the true joys of college life. J.T. and Seed go the way of all flesh and wonder if it's too late to transfer to Trinity. Moshe, Buel and others are AWOL at various pursuits also, but manage to sneak it past the dean: "But where did you spend the night? — I just don't understand!"

Chaffee Spring Day comes and passes without too much ado, other than rumors of a vice-raid on the fortune-telling tent.

J.T. gets word the coast is clear and an expedition is formed for New York. "Why sir, I'm just taking a weekend home to Texas!" On a diet of cheese, bread, Miller's Vodka, and 20 blocks of crosstown Manhattan anyone would heave — we don't blame you, Miguel. O.B. has the strongest orange juice in the history of drink, and J.T. finishes everything off with two cans of pine spray.

With the advent of near-summer, the Senior Sun Club is formed along with talk of varsity handball. With Moe as honorary president, a strenuous sunbathing program is laid out — 15 minutes to a side, like pork chops. As thus we sizzle, exams sneak up behind.

JUNE

June opens with the commencement of final exams . . . commencement . . . commencement . . . why Commencement's only eight days away. The Friendly Festival convenes at Wilbraham for a major celebration. Before we know it exams are over and the cherished time has come. Term end cards are signed for the final time. Class night comes and goes and Willy escapes unscarred. Graduation day is here and all receive diplomas without the need of a vote. Our hearts are filled with joy and expectations, but with many fond memories also — memories which we have come to know so well. The days of Hum lectures . . . Chaffee Proms . . . runny eggs . . . T-slips . . . bleacher duty . . . and the Squirrel have past, yet not without regrets. The final good-byes are exchanged and . . .

The class of '62 is on its way
So dawn goes down to day.
Nothing Gold can stay.
